FISHERMAN'S VILLAGE NIGHT MARKET

Witness how the quiet town of Bophut comes to life as the quaint Fisherman's Village transforms into a bustling walking street market. Every Friday evening, the village becomes a destination for shopping sprees, with stalls and boutique shops lining various streets, teeming with shoppers and street performers. This weekend night market offers ideal Samui souvenirs, such as shirts and fashion accessories, all for really low prices. You can also spot some rare finds in this market, including locally made handicrafts, musical instruments, and the island's freshest herbs and spices. In another part of the street, you'll find street food vendors, small bars, and restaurants where you can enjoy a gastronomic adventure.
